

EVARTS AHEAD.

THE CONTEST DRAWING TO A CLOSE.

EVARTS AND MORTON MEN WORKING HARD—BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT—NO THIRD CANDIDATE IN THE RACE.

ALBANY, Jan. 18.—Mr. Evarts and Mr. Morton, from present appearances, will not know which is to be United States Senator till to-morrow night. Mr. Morton's friends have returned here after a visit to New-York with the determination to test Mr. Evarts' strength in the caucus. There seemed to be a possibility yesterday that they would attempt to transfer Mr. Morton's votes to some other candidate to-day. They declare now that they never had a thought of abandoning him and that they are confident of his selection by the caucus. Mr. Evarts' friends, in their opinion, are mistaken regarding their strength. Ex-Senator Thomas C. Platt is credited with this infusion of courage into the hearts of the Morton leaders, who palpably on Friday were despondent over the prospects of the Senator from Albany. Mr. Pratt was visited by him at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New-York, by most of the Morton leaders yesterday and to-day. He is said to have listened quietly to all their statements concerning the attitude of the members of the Legislature toward Mr. Morton, and then to have expressed the decided opinion that Mr. Morton could be elected. He then gave such advice concerning the conduct of the canvass for Mr. Morton and sent out such telegrams over the State to that effect and that political leader that the Morton men felt more confidence in final success.

SENATOR MILLER'S CONFIDENCE. In another room of the Fifth Avenue Hotel there were talking at the same moment Senator Warner Miller and ex-Speaker George B. Sloan, of Oswego. Mr. Sloan has been here ever since the contest over the Senatorship began. He carefully went over the list of members of the Legislature with Senator Miller, stating each man's choice for Senator, on Friday night, and the influence that might affect their action after that day. Senator Miller is himself so thoroughly acquainted with the politics and politicians of every county in the State that he could readily follow Mr. Sloan in this description, and judge whether his opinion was correct. When Mr. Sloan had ended his task, Senator Miller leaned back in his chair and said: "Mr. Evarts has a majority and the Morton people cannot shake it." Assemblyman Walter Howe in the course of the day had a chat with Mr. Evarts at his law office. Mr. Evarts was in excellent spirits and evidently highly gratified by the hearty support given him by the members of the Legislature. Mr. Evarts stated that he had just had a pleasant call from Assemblyman Van Allen, of New-York, who has hitherto been inclined to vote for Mr. Morton. Mr. Howe a little later was given a petition in favor of Mr. Evarts' election signed by every Republican bank president in New-York who are at the head of banks possessing $45,000,000 capital.

Mr. Howe returned here last night from New-York. At the Grand Central Depot in New-York he met Caspary M. Dewey and said to him: "Are you going to be a candidate for Senator?" Mr. Dewey replied: "No, I am not going to run. I've already written one letter of denial, and I've got to stop denying this thing." Mr. Dewey thus forcibly denies that he will permit Mr. Morton's friends to make him a candidate against Mr. Evarts, or in fact that he will be a candidate. It has become clear to the Morton leaders, however, that they can transfer the Morton vote to no one else. Some of the members of the Legislature, who are pledged to Mr. Morton, have been bombarded recently by Evarts petitions to such a disagreeable extent that they are getting restive. Senator Daggett, of Brooklyn, was subjected to considerable Evarts "pressure" at home yesterday. He therefore said to the Evarts leaders on reaching this city to-day: "I shall vote for Morton, but the Morton people cannot transfer me to any other man." Theodore Roosevelt, who came on the same train from New-York with Senator Daggett, said on arriving: "We have got Morton beaten two to one."

THE EVARTS COMMITTEE. The Evarts Vigilance Committee remained here all day to-day, but had nothing to do. The members of the committee, James D. Warren, Henry G. Burleigh, Charles R. Skinner, John M. Davy, William T. O'Neil, James W. Wadsworth, Andrew S. Draper, Hamilton Harris and Newton W. Nutting, in desultory talk all day debated whether or not Mr. Morton could again be put in the lead for the Senatorship. All the members of the committee were slightly uneasy about the result of Mr. Platt's work among the members of the Legislature. Would this secret labor succeed? Could a majority for Mr. Morton be obtained by sending agents to all the Republican members of the Legislature to canvass for votes for him? These were the questions that constantly were asked. What made the members of the committee anxious was that the work for Mr. Morton was hidden from them and that nothing could be done to counteract its effect. Completely in the dark as they were, the committee members were still in the Legislature. Mr. Evarts would retain his majority. "The Morton men," said Mr. Warren, "won't give up till they know positively that they are beaten. They are going to keep on till to-morrow night, and then they will return here to-morrow with a much stronger impression than they had when they left here that the Republican voters of the State desire the election of Mr. Evarts." The Evarts sentiment has steadily strengthened in the State.

There have been some indications that the friends of President Arthur would like to have a triangular fight brought about by which their first choice might return to the field. They have anxiously waited for the election of the President, and they are now hoping that he would yield, and so open up a free-for-all Assemblyman Hawkins of Erie, visited relatives in New-York yesterday. He will vote for Mr. Evarts, though his first choice is President Arthur, and if he saw any chance of the latter's nomination he would go over to him with the rapidity of a lightning change of color.

SEVERAL OF THE COUNTRY MEMBERS AND A FEW OF THE CITY POLITICIANS WENT TO ALBANY LAST EVENING'S TRAIN IN ORDER TO BE ON THE GROUND EARLY TO-DAY. But by far the greater number will go up on the 10:30 train this morning. All of the city Senators and Assemblymen and those from Brooklyn will go up on that train or the one half an hour later.

THE INDICATIONS ARE THAT THERE WILL BE A GREATER GATHERING OF NEW-YORK AND BROOKLYN POLITICIANS IN ALBANY THIS EVENING THAN AT ANY TIME FOR SEVERAL YEARS. Many are going to gratify their curiosity. Senator Gibbs and Assemblyman Windolph will be accompanied by General Anson G. McCook, Colonel John W. Marshall, Clarence W. Meade and half a dozen Republican leaders from the West. Side, Assemblyman Rockefeller will be accompanied by John W. Jacobus, Jeremiah Pangborn, George B. Deane, William H. Geddes and other old New-Yorkers. John J. O'Brien, Robert G. McCord and John E. Brodsky will accompany Assemblyman Charles E. Smith. General Henry A. Barnum will find the XXII District represented unofficially by Theodore Roosevelt and Commissioner Jacob Hess, who will be in the train with Mr. Evarts.

George Bliss, who was also in the train, spoke as follows: "The Morton people may pick up a few votes for Morton to-morrow, but they won't get enough to nominate him." Andrew S. Draper, who was standing by, said: "We have sixty-five iron-clad votes for Evarts. I have been over the list carefully. The Morton people will, of course, fight to the last, and will lose of their prospects. I don't feel but however, County men will be passing through a graveyard." Chester S. Cole, a Morton leader, was also on the train. He gave his opinion as follows: "We are going to elect Morton—that is all that I care to say." An advance squad of the Executive Committee of the Union League Club of New-York, also came on the train. The squad consisted of Charles Watrous, Colonel George Bliss, S. V. R. Cruger and General Anson G. McCook.

THE BROOKLYN EVARTS COMMITTEE ALSO ARRIVED AND CONSISTED OF GENERAL BENJAMIN F. TRACY, STEWART L. WOODFORD, GEORGE F. ELLIOTT, FRANKLIN WOODFORD and others.

REPUBLICANS FAVORING MR. MORTON. (BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) ROCHESTER, Jan. 18.—A petition of five thousand Republicans of Monroe County to the Legislature in favor of Mr. Morton for Senator has just been sent to Albany from this city. The petition is 100 feet long, and contains the names of lawyers, farmers, bankers, merchants, clerical men, mechanics and manufacturers.

BUSTLING ACTIVITY IN THE CITY. THE QUESTION OF AN OPEN OR SECRET BALLOT—MR. EVARTS' CONFIDENCE. The general condition of the Senatorship contest as seen from this city yesterday was one of mixed uncertainty. The friends of Mr. Evarts and of Mr. Morton continued each to claim for their favorite a surety of the caucus nomination to-night. Yet there were rumors flying about in every direction of the possibility of a third candidate being brought into the contest, of mysterious conferences to that end, and of Assemblymen who had entered into an agreement to vote in the caucus for a new man. No definite information, however, places all this talk as mere froth, and the battle to-night will be between two men only.

Among shrewd politicians it is believed that at least one-fourth of the members have pledged themselves to both candidates, and on the actual disposition of their votes will depend the issue. It was a busy day in politics. Statesmen and politicians sent their cards up to Room 280, Fifth Avenue Hotel, by scores. The room is occupied by Senator Platt, the Morton leader in the fight. He saw every one who came and to every one who inquired about the progress of the contest his reply was invariably the same. It was in effect that the Evarts race-horse had been exhausted by two great efforts and that Morton would come down the homestretch a handsome winner. Silas B. Ditcher, Captain Chester S. Cole, L. F. Payn and other Morton managers were closeted with Mr. Platt in the morning and then departed for Albany, leaving behind them an emphatic prophecy that to-day will witness the development at Albany of all the full strength of the Morton candidacy. Some quiet work is going on with reference to the canvass. The Morton managers will make a test on the question of a secret or an open ballot. The only exception to the custom of a secret ballot was in the canvass that defeated Conkling and Platt. The Morton men think they see that number of Evarts men, for personal reasons, will desire a secret ballot, and that their votes added to the Morton force will give such a majority for a secret ballot that if the Evarts leaders oppose it they will appear to be whipped before the ballot for Senator is reached.

Among the Morton men who were in the city yesterday was Charles E. Fitch, of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. He said to a Tribune reporter that he had been in Albany since the opening of the Legislature and was positive that at no time had Mr. Evarts been within fifteen votes of a nomination. "The canvass," he said, "will demonstrate this fact beyond dispute." Senator Velder, of Cattaraugus County, who asked yesterday about the sentiment of Western New-York, said he could best reply by permitting the reporter to copy the following letter from ex-Congressman Van Aerssen:

FRANKLINVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 12, 1885. MY DEAR YENDER: There are some phases about this Senatorship contest that I do not well understand. For instance, why should the Articles of Association of the Senatorship contest be so long? Something in addition to brains is needed to make a good Senator. I am a Republican, and who has the energy and common sense to crystallize these convolutions into practical form? I am a Republican, and who has the energy and common sense to crystallize these convolutions into practical form? I am a Republican, and who has the energy and common sense to crystallize these convolutions into practical form?

SENATOR VENDER, OF CATTARAUGUS COUNTY, WHO ASKED YESTERDAY ABOUT THE SENTIMENT OF WESTERN NEW-YORK, SAID HE COULD BEST REPLY BY PERMITTING THE REPORTER TO COPY THE FOLLOWING LETTER FROM EX-CONGRESSMAN VAN AERSEN:

FRANKLINVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 12, 1885. MY DEAR YENDER: There are some phases about this Senatorship contest that I do not well understand. For instance, why should the Articles of Association of the Senatorship contest be so long? Something in addition to brains is needed to make a good Senator. I am a Republican, and who has the energy and common sense to crystallize these convolutions into practical form? I am a Republican, and who has the energy and common sense to crystallize these convolutions into practical form? I am a Republican, and who has the energy and common sense to crystallize these convolutions into practical form?

SENATOR VENDER, OF CATTARAUGUS COUNTY, WHO ASKED YESTERDAY ABOUT THE SENTIMENT OF WESTERN NEW-YORK, SAID HE COULD BEST REPLY BY PERMITTING THE REPORTER TO COPY THE FOLLOWING LETTER FROM EX-CONGRESSMAN VAN AERSEN:

FRANKLINVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 12, 1885. MY DEAR YENDER: There are some phases about this Senatorship contest that I do not well understand. For instance, why should the Articles of Association of the Senatorship contest be so long? Something in addition to brains is needed to make a good Senator. I am a Republican, and who has the energy and common sense to crystallize these convolutions into practical form? I am a Republican, and who has the energy and common sense to crystallize these convolutions into practical form? I am a Republican, and who has the energy and common sense to crystallize these convolutions into practical form?

SENATOR VENDER, OF CATTARAUGUS COUNTY, WHO ASKED YESTERDAY ABOUT THE SENTIMENT OF WESTERN NEW-YORK, SAID HE COULD BEST REPLY BY PERMITTING THE REPORTER TO COPY THE FOLLOWING LETTER FROM EX-CONGRESSMAN VAN AERSEN:

THE JUDGE SENTENCED HIM ON THE FIRST INDICTMENT TO SEVEN YEARS AND ON THE SECOND TO SIX YEARS AND SIX MONTHS.

THE STRIKING HATTERS. SCHEMES OF "THE OUTRAGE GANG." INCITING THE MEN TO VIOLENT ACTION—PUBLIC AND PRIVATE REWARDS.

FROM A SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUNE. SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., Jan. 18.—The "outrage gang," which has been so successfully eluding the authorities, has been traced to a small town in the State. The gang is composed of a number of men, who are engaged in the business of striking hatters. They are known as "the outrage gang," and are notorious for their violence and lawlessness. They have been traced to a small town in the State, and are now being hunted by the authorities.

THEIR NEXT EXPLOIT WAS A BRUTAL ATTACK UPON TWO HATTERS, WILLIAMS AND LUCAS, FOR NO OTHER REASON THAN THAT THESE MEN WANTED A LIVING, AND WERE WILLING TO WORK FOR IT. The gang is composed of a number of men, who are engaged in the business of striking hatters. They are known as "the outrage gang," and are notorious for their violence and lawlessness. They have been traced to a small town in the State, and are now being hunted by the authorities.

THE MANUFACTURERS HAVE THEIR FACTORIES CLOSELY GUARDED. THEY HOPE THAT FURTHER OUTRAGES WILL NOT BE PERPETRATED, BUT DO NOT FEEL CONFIDENT. The gang is composed of a number of men, who are engaged in the business of striking hatters. They are known as "the outrage gang," and are notorious for their violence and lawlessness. They have been traced to a small town in the State, and are now being hunted by the authorities.

LOOKING FOR A WIFE MURDERER. (BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) BUFFALO, Jan. 17.—The police department and residents of the southern portion of this city are greatly stirred up over a charge of murder made against a man who has borne a good reputation. Some time ago a constable called named Flannery, of Kingston, while passing up Hammar street, this city, recognized a man who, in 1878, had been arrested at that crossing, a man who, in 1878, had been arrested at that crossing, a man who, in 1878, had been arrested at that crossing.

ELOPING WITH A MARRIED WOMAN. (BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) SPRINGFIELD, Jan. 18.—The elopement of Samuel M. Glazer, of Holyoke, with Mrs. Daniel McKee, of this city, is causing considerable talk. Mr. Glazer is a member of the City Council, the son of a well-known family, and a member of the City Council. He is a member of the City Council, the son of a well-known family, and a member of the City Council. He is a member of the City Council, the son of a well-known family, and a member of the City Council.

VAGABOND OF MRS. COMPTON. (BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 18.—For some time society here and throughout the State has been exercised over an alleged attempt to poison Mrs. Compton, daughter of Governor Lumpkin and after whom Atlanta was named when it was called Marthasville. Governor Lumpkin married as his second wife a New-Yorker. A negro woman called Caroline induced Mrs. Compton's daughter, to rebel against her stepmother. When Governor Lumpkin died he left his daughter about $5,000. Six years ago Miss Lumpkin married Mr. Compton, a widower, with a young daughter. Several days ago Mrs. Compton died of a sudden. Her death was a surprise to all. Some days later this affair was made public, when many rumors were set afloat. Mrs. Compton in turn being accused of poisoning her father-in-law. The case is now being investigated by the authorities.

SWINDLING LUMBER FIRMS. (BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.) MANXINGTON, W. Va., Jan. 18.—G. H. Dobson, claiming to be a buyer for the lumber firm of Morgan & Co., Baltimore, has been fleeing from men in this and adjoining counties for some weeks. His latest venture was here, and two of his victims, O. N. Koon and C. A. Pritchard, are heavy losers, the sum being paid at something like $2,000. It is estimated that he has picked up $50,000 or $50,000 altogether in this part of the State.

ARSENIC IN A BARREL OF WATER. CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 18.—Great excitement prevails in St. Albans, near this city, over the poisoning of the Misses Annie, Blanche and Jennie Burns. They had been an entertaining party on Friday night and were sleeping themselves yesterday. They prepared their own breakfast, using water in a barrel. Shortly after eating breakfast they became ill with symptoms indicating poisoning. The water in the barrel was found to contain arsenic. The barrel was found to contain arsenic. The barrel was found to contain arsenic.

THE DEFALTING NORWICH CASHIERS. NORWICH, Conn., Jan. 18.—By the irregularities in the Merchants' and the Shetucket National banks of this city the Merchants' Bank lost about $130,000 and the Shetucket about $50,000 through speculation by their cashiers. The cashiers were summoned to appear before the Cashier James M. Meach and Assistant Cashier Charles Webb yesterday that they had been speculating with the funds of the bank for years. Both men have resigned, and their places have been filled. Cashier William Roath, of the Shetucket Bank, had been using the bank's funds also in speculation. Webb, of the Merchants' Bank, was president of the Shetucket Bank, and with Cashier Roath, had been using funds of that institution too. Cashier Roath's place has also been filled.

KILLED BY AN EXPLOSION. DENVER, Jan. 18.—Dr. G. E. Smith, a retired physician in this city, was killed last night by the explosion of hydrogen gas. He was in his laboratory, and was working on an experiment. The explosion occurred while he was working, and he was killed instantly. The cause of the explosion is not yet known.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTING HIS SISTER. A serious and probably fatal accident occurred yesterday in Brooklyn from the careless handling of a gun. Louis Pearlari, age fourteen, was with his sister Lizette, age eleven, in the kitchen of their house, No. 274 Smith st., in the afternoon. The boy had just been playing with a gun, and had just been playing with a gun. The boy had just been playing with a gun, and had just been playing with a gun.

INSANE PATIENTS BURNED. FLAMES IN AN ILLINOIS HOSPITAL. THE MANIACS REFUSE TO LEAVE THE BUILDING—OFFICIAL NEGLECT.

KANSAS, Ill., Jan. 18.—The South Infirmary of the Illinois Eastern Hospital for the Insane was burned at 4:25 p. m. to-day. The fire originated in the furnace-room and had a strong headway before it was discovered. The wooden work of the building, being of Southern pine, burned rapidly. The building was occupied by forty-five patients, six attendants, and one night watchman. Seventeen patients in all are missing. Thirteen bodies have already been recovered, burned beyond recognition. All of the patients were infirm and incurable. The terrified ones were rescued first and those who were able to help themselves did not realize the danger in time and they were the ones who perished. The attendants lost all their personal effects and many narrowly escaped with their lives, one of them having to tie his bed clothes together to escape from a window to the ground. There were no facilities for putting out the fire, the State not having made any appropriation for the purpose. The building was a new one and cost about $15,000. It is a total loss. The names of the men who perished are Henry Brown, Rock Island; H. W. Belden, Galesburg; George Bennett, Morris; Joseph Colbert, Chicago; Orlando Ellis, Pontiac; J. W. Galloway, Macoupin; Thomas Hickey, Springfield; Matthew Hague, Champaign; T. Hachner, Stevenson County; Thomas Hereby, Chicago; John Johnson, Vernalia; Michael Jordan, Chicago; J. Nathan, Chicago; A. Runyard, Winnebago County; C. Strotz, Chicago; J. W. Tyler, Chicago; F. Weymouth, Putnam County.

THE BUILDING WAS A TWO-STORY HOUSE OF STONE AND BRICK, WITH NO WOOD EXCEPT THE FLOORS AND STAIRWAYS. IT WAS COMPLETED IN AUGUST. IT WAS USED AS AN INFIRMARY FOR INSANE INMATES, TWENTY-THREE ON THE FIRST FLOOR AND TWENTY-TWO ON THE SECOND. THE ATTENDANTS, BROWN, ROSE AND THE LATTER, WERE SLEEPING ON THE SECOND FLOOR. ATTENDANT REID, WILLIAMS AND THE FREEMAN, LADDER, SLEPT ON THE FIRST FLOOR. THE BUILDING WAS HEATED BY HOT-AIR FURNACES. IT WAS TWELVE DEGREES BELOW ZERO WHEN THE FIRE BROKE OUT. BEHIND THE FURNACE ROOM, HEARD THE CORNER OF THE BUILDING, A PATIENT IN AN ADJOINING ROOM, BUT FAILED, SLIDING DOWN BY THE AID OF A SHEET FROM HIS WINDOW JUMPED TO THE GROUND.

REID, AT THE RISK OF HIS OWN LIFE, STRUGGLED UP TILL HE REACHED THE SECOND FLOOR, WHERE HE FOUND TWENTY-ONE OF THE TWENTY-THREE PATIENTS WHO WERE SLEEPING. HE WAS EXHAUSTED AND WAS CARRIED AWAY. ON THE SECOND FLOOR ATTENDANT ROSE AND WIFE HEARD THE ALARM AND ESCAPED DOWN THE STAIRWAY JUST BEFORE THE FIRE REACHED THE SECOND FLOOR. THE CORNER OF THE BUILDING, A PATIENT IN AN ADJOINING ROOM, BUT FAILED, SLIDING DOWN BY THE AID OF A SHEET FROM HIS WINDOW JUMPED TO THE GROUND.

INCIDENTS OF THE FIRE. H. W. Belden, age fifty, of Galesburg, Ill., one of the victims and the only one whose body remained even the semblance of a human form, was a prominent man in his part of the State. He was on the second floor, and was unable to escape. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another window, hastened to the rescue, and, though a heavy smoke and flames poured from the window, he managed to get Belden out. He was found by Superintendent Dewey, aided by an attendant, placed a ladder to his window, and ascending it broke through the glass and jumped out. He was unable to break the glass, descended for some implement to break it. Meantime Belden's shrieks for help were loud and agonizing, but as Dewey descended his climb was delayed. The smoke and flames poured from the window, so that no help could be given him. Dr. Dewey, hearing calls for help from another